

SW-G
APRIL/MAY
2009
VOL. 2. NO. 1

photo courtesy Valley Forward Association

14 Green Stimulus

In an exclusive podcast, Arizona SBA Director Robert Blaney discusses how to access the Billions of Dollars now available for small business.

26 CFL Disposal

Compact Florescent Lights (CFL) save great amounts of energy. However, when they are old, or break, they must be disposed of properly. By Liz Paulus

30 Green it to Keep it

The job you save may be your own. In these days of uncertainty, companies are looking for the best ideas to stay in business. By Angela Brooks

39 Greenwashing

All that glitters is not green. Beware of those who make false claims of their environmental friendliness. By Anthony Floyd

47 Full Circle

The new Valley Metro light rail is now moving passengers. But that is only the beginning of a story 68 years on the making. By George Brooks

54 Green Phoenix

Mayor Phil Gordon's plan to turn Phoenix Arizona into America's Greenest City can benefit you, your home and your business. By George Brooks

in this edition

prologue

Call to Action	pg. 2
Publishers' Notes	pg. 6
Table Of Contents	pg. 11
Staff	pg. 13

podcasts

SBA	pg. 14
Green Survival	pg. 67
Environmental Factors Affecting Cancer	pg. 67
The Rio Salado Project Update	pg. 67

voices

Guest editorial: Conservation Voters	pg. 15
--------------------------------------	--------

snapshots

Scottsdale Community College hosts	pg. 18
Keep Phoenix Beautiful hosts Earth Day	pg. 25
Green Jobs	pg. 42
ASU Polytechnic Recognized	pg. 46
Valley Forward's Livability Summit	pg. 51
A Great Green Summer	pg. 58

business

EcoAid LLC	pg. 19
Phoenix reaches out to green business	pg. 33
Greenovation LLC	pg. 43

images

AWEE Green Job Fair	pg. 21
ASU Tempe Apache Av. Solar Farm	pg. 29
The Rio Salado Project	pg. 32
City of Phoenix Low Income Solar Project	pg. 45
Green Phoenix Begins	pg. 53
KEYS Community Center Garden	pg. 66

GREEN REVIVAL

Southwest Gas welcomed as new partner	pg. 22
Green Stretch your Tax Cut	pg. 24
Green Jazz at the Herberger	pg. 36
Capturing HVAC Condensate	pg. 38
Second Annual Minority Green Business Conference	pg. 59
Childhelp KEYs Community Center Garden Project	pg. 63

resources & terms

pg. 68

Staff

Southwest Green magazine is published by Ebony Cactus magazine Inc., Angela Brooks CEO and Publisher
George B. Brooks, Jr., Ph.D
COO and Editor

PR/Marketing
Life Strategies Consulting

Sales
Susan Morris

Staff

Graphics/ Art
Magazine:

Dr. George Brooks Jr.
WEB Master
George B. Brooks, Jr.
Photography
T.J. Leak
Angela Brooks
Dr. George B. Brooks, Jr.

Proofing
Susan Morris

Contact

Mail: P.O. Box 24982
Tempe, AZ 85285-4982
Phone: (602) 363-1677
Fax: (602) 437-8852
Publisher:

Publisher@SW-Green.com
CoPublisher:

Copublisher@@SW-Green.com

Sales and Advertising:
info@sw-green.com
Webpage

<http://sw-green.com>

Faculty

Robert J. Blaney is the Director for the Arizona District Office of the United States Small Business Administration. A native of Western New York, he is a graduate of the State University College of New York at Buffalo. In July of 1995, he was competitively selected as one of five people in the country to participate in the District Director Candidate Development Program. He was the first in his class to graduate and while in the program served as district director in Las Vegas, Nevada, Lubbock, Texas, and as Deputy District Director in Newark, New Jersey, Los Angeles, California and San Juan, Puerto Rico. In August of 1998, he was named District Director of the Arizona District Office. Mr. Blaney may be reached at 602-745-7200/ <http://www.sba.gov/az/>

Ken Clark is a retired State Legislator. He lives in Central Phoenix. He has a full-service public relations, government relations and marketing practice. Additionally, he is a Realtor(r), focusing exclusively on downtown urban lifestyle properties and revitalization. He can be reached at info@kenclarkforaz.com

Liz Paulus has 20 years environmental programs experience and has helped launch several successful programs. She is currently the City of Phoenix Pollution Prevention Coordinator, a program she initiated in 1995 which focuses on reducing hazardous material use and resource conservation in city operations. The P2 Program supports over 600 facilities and 14,000 employees. Liz received her Bachelor of Arts Degree in Chemistry from Arizona State University. She coordinated development of and is the lead for the city's recently adopted Environmentally Preferable Purchasing (EPP) Program for greening the city's contracts.

Angela Brooks is a dynamic global community and business leader with a strong record of achievement. A Human Resource professional, Angela has an undergraduate degree and attended Ottawa University. Angela has nearly twenty years of experience that include a mixture of supervision and administration in business and education. She is the Sole Proprietor of Life Strategies Consulting specializing in: Human Resource, Human Service, Public Relations and Marketing. She is also the Publisher/ CEO of The Ebony Cactus magazine. Angela has four daughters: Andrea, Amanda, Haley and Hasina. One God Daughter Sarah and a new grandson Marcus. She is married to George Brooks, Jr. PhD. She may be reached at: publisher@theebonycactus.com

Anthony Floyd is a registered architect and former building official for the City of Scottsdale. He currently serves as Sustainable Building Manager and is in charge of Scottsdale's Green Building Program. Anthony can be reached at 480-312-4202 or by-mail at: afloyd@ci.scottsdale.az.us / www.ci.scottsdale.az.us/greenbuilding/.

Brett Hudson, an honors graduate from Stanford University, worked as a successful business strategy consultant in Washington, D.C. and has since continued his efforts to help build strategies for both large organizations and start-up ventures. After moving to Phoenix, Hudson's interest in energy policy led him to a consulting position with Greenovation, LLC, where he now serves as the Director of Business Development and Investor Relations. He also currently works with the Arizona Community Foundation on the Black Philanthropy Initiative—an initiative that uses strategies to connect African American businesses, policy decisions and community-based organizations to execute tangible change.

